Riverside Residents Can Apply for Openings on Code of Ethics Ad Hoc Committee

RIVERSIDE, Calif. - The City of Riverside is accepting applications from residents interested in serving on the Code of Ethics and Conduct Review Ad Hoc Committee.

The Committee will consist of nine members, including one from each ward and two at-large seats. The Committee's charge is to review the Code of Ethics and Conduct and forward recommendations on the complaint process to the City Council Governmental Affairs Committee.

Voters added Section 202 to the City Charter in 2005 requiring a Code of Ethics and Conduct for elected officials and members of appointed boards, commissions, and committees to ensure public confidence in the integrity of local government and its effective and fair operation. The code originally was aspirational only. The complaint process that is the subject of the current review was added later.

Applications are being accepted until Friday, Oct. 17. More information is available from the City Clerk's Office at 951-826-5557.
